DEATH SENTENCE

APPEAL HAS BEEN GRANTED.

At Georgetown, Ky., on Aug. 20th the Powers trial came to an end. A special from that place of the above date says:

"Caleb Powers has been found gullty of conspiracy in the assassination of Gov. Goebel and the jury has fixed his punishment at death. The report of the jury was made to the court at 11:20 o'clock this morning after four hours and and twenty minutes consideration of the case.

The report of the jury was anxiously awaited by persons where

MOTION OVERRULED.

Special Judge Robbins this afon overruled the motion for ternoon overruled the motion for granting a new trial for Powers and passed sentence of death upon him. After the declaration of the prisoner: "I am not guilty, Judge," the court fixed November 25 next as the day for the execution. Powers was imagistaly removed to the Sectification of the prisoners of the second of the sec the execution. Powers was immediately removed to the Scott county jail to be held there pending the appeal of the case. Powers refused to say anything after the rendition of the verdict saying he had said all he cared to in the speech to the jury.

WHY IS IT?

BLUE G. BARD.

Why is it what we long for most, We never can attain. And when we yearn for sunshine We always get a rain?

Why is it most pleasant things Are not exactly right, And that we should not see, Is ever in our sight?

Why is it we see ou

Much plainer than our own, Tho' like huge meuntains Our's steadily have grown?

Why is it we give good advice On morals, laws and health, And never care to use it To benefit our self?

Why is it we stay away from church On account of a threatening cloud, When we wade through rain to the opera With the thunder bellowing loud?

Why is it we bet on the races,
And otherwise play the fool,
And only contribute a penny
For the good of the Sunday school?

MILKING TIME.

Every evening, sure as fate,
The cows come to the back lot gate,
Where they bawl and impatiently
wait
For milking time.—Shortfellow.

Somewhere adown the dim vistas of the long gone past I have seen an elaborate chromo visits of the long gone past in have seen an elaborate chromo portraying a shady lane, a lot of draw bars, all down but the two last, three or four varigated cows and a handsome milk mailen with her sleeves tucked up revealing the milky whiteness of her alabaster arms to the elbow. In the picture the sun was slowly and gracefully gliding adown the crimson west, bathing the tops-of the vernal trees in a flood of shimmering gold as it has on several previous occasions. To gaze on this picture one would have been immediately convinced that milking was one of the greatest pleasures human flesh is heir to. Alas! How different it is in real life. To one who has never attempted to yank the lacteal fluid from a fractious bovine this picture is a fractious bovine this picture is a delusion and a snare. Milking time in Kentucky is something like the following:

An anxious, rawboned cow comes up to the back gate about 3 o'clock p. m. and stands there for three hours with her pensive head thrust through an opening and pours forth a never ceasing flood of melody until she causes unkind remarks from the causes unkind remarks from the neighbors or is fed and milked. When milking time actually ar-rives and the food is being pre-pared the impulsive cow spite-fully attempts to remove an en-terprising fly that is lecating a claim on her spinal column and in the rebound her horn inflicts a long, irregular mark some-

a long, irregular mark some-where in the neighborhood of the milker's fifth rib. This, however, is nothing to compare with the agony one has to undergo during the painful operation of milking. The mental strain of milking an uncertain cow is exhaustive in the extreme. While one is pensively sitting on a three legged stool, squeezing the liquid white-ness in a pail and recit-ing William Cullen Bryant's Thanatopsis, it is disgusting in the extreme to have a refractory cow swish vigorously at a fly and wrap three lengths of her tail around one's head, with the around one's head, with the damp brushy part resting on the pale dome of thought, or suddenly, without previous warn-ing raise her right hind foot and kick the milk pail athwart the zodiac scattering the contents over one's best pants and standing collar. Experiences of this kind cause one to become morose and bitter toward his fellow rose and bitter toward his fellow man and many a man has filled an early grave, simply and solely because he prefered death to milking an irresponsible brindle bovine all his life. The Alme-gated Association of Hard Working Housewives should take this matter under serious considera-tion and see if something cannot be done to alleviate the sufferings of male milkers even though they had to perform this part of the household duties themselves.

Fiter's something radically wrong With the way things are going today.

If we'd turn squarely around, I think we'd find it would pay.

A NEW DISEASE MENACING CUBA

A Malady That Baffles the Best Medical Skill to be Found In the Island.

IS MORE SWIFT AND DEADLY THAN THE BUBONIC PLAGUE.

It Presents the Worst Symptoms of Yellow Fever, Black Fever and Spotted Fever, and Literally Burns Out the Lives of Its Un-fortunate Victims.

Barne Out the Lives of its Enfortunate Victims.

New York, Sept. 2.—Monaced by a disease which has beffed the best medical skill of the island, the health department officials of Columbia university and Jeffersan Medical college of Philadelphia for all in determining the nature of the disease. The most emment, pathologists and bacteriologists of those institution are working, says the World, and public health department of the United States government, in an effort to determine the nature of the disease. It distals of the investigation are refused.

The disease in many of its symptoms resembles bubonic piague, but it is said to be more swift in its progress and more deadly in its effects.

It first appeared some months ago in the isolated town of Daiquiri, province of Santiago. Men employed in the rom mires in that locality were affected. The disease did not yield to treatment, and the mortality was greater than in yellow fever or any kindred disease.

The inhabitants became panic-strick-na and an American sated company, greater than in yellow fever or any kindred disease. The inhabitants became panic-stricken, and an American steel company, with large interests there, took up the matter. References to the New York and Philadelphia experts followed. The description of the disease furnished by the Cuban physicians shows that it presents the worst symptoms of yellow fever, back fever and spotted fever. The patient is usually dead, a few hours after first complaining of illness, and turns a bright yellow after death. It is in the death that the disease presents its most horrithe phase. The victim's pulse rate rushes to 100, a heart beat which is deemed almost impossible by physicians of experience. The respiration counts ills. These organic disturbances, together with a temperature of 107 and 108, do not cause instant death, but the high fever generated soon burns out life.

The discage always attacks persons who have suffered from intermittent maintain fever.

Every farmer knows that some plants grow better than others. Soil may be the same and seed may seem the same but some plants are weak and others strong.

And that's the ______ with children. They are like young plants. Same food, same home, same care but some grow big and strong while others stay small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion offers an easy way out of the difficulty. Child weakness often means starvation, not because of lack of food, but because the food does not feed.

Scott's Emulsion really feeds and gives the child growing strength.

Whatever the cause of weak-

AN ADDRESS TO VOTERS OF KENTUCKY

Issued by Ctate Committee

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

Gentlemen: At a Commercial Convention of the State of Kentucky, held in the city of Louisville on the £d, 3d and 4th £dys of June, 1903, the undersigned were appointed a committee for the purpose of bringing the amendment to the constitution of the state which is to be voted upon at the Normber election this year, to the attention of voters of all parties in the vate, and obtains for it the accessary number of rotes to secure its adoption. The amendment is purely a mongarities, measure, vitally affecting the interests of all citizens of the state, no matter what their party affinitions or occupations may be, or where their places of residence are situated.

The benedical effects which will follow the adoption of the amendment are so vast that they can hardly be estimated. The evil that will result, if by any chance the amendment are so that they can hardly be estimated. The evil that will result, if by any chance the amendment will be disastrous in the extreme to the best interests of the state.

The adoption of the amendment will not change in the least the precent system of taxation in Kentucky for state.

The acoption or the amendment win not change in the loast the present sys-tem of taxation in Kentucky for state and county purposes, as it applies only to taxes levied by cities and towns for their own local purposes.

The manfacturers, merchants and financial institutions in the cities and sot nearly so burdensome and oserous se in Kentucky.

The provision of our constitution which the aniendment, after its adoption, will cure, also operates to drive expital from our midst, and compels that which remains with us to charge us higher interest rates when we how how money than we would have to pay it money used in banking and handeal operations was not taxed so exorbitantly for municipal purposes. Farmers and country merchants of Kentucky, don't make the mistake of Kentucky, don't make the mistake of Kentucky, don't make the mistake of thinking the adoption of this amendment of the constitution will not beneficially affect you.

If you want existing factories in our towns and cities to grow, so as to give employment to more men; if you want new industries to be established, employing still more men; if you want new industries to be established, employing still more men; if you want

If you want existing factories in our towns and cities to grow, so as to give employment to more men; if you want new industries to be eatablished, employing still more men; if you want more consumers for your farm products and more buyers at your counters; if you want hower interest rates when you borrow money; if you want to lessen your state and county taxes; in a word, if you want as much prosperity throughout the length and breadth of our grand old common-realth as prevails in other states, then wote for the amendment, and get your neighbors to vote for it.

Every existing factory walarged, and every new factory brought atto Kentacky through this amendment to our constitution, means on Men Could Not Do a Thing With

After three years of local option the people of Sebree have again spoken in sumpatic tones at the politation that the town must go "dry."

At an election held there last Saturday in North Sebree precinct, which includes half the town, 65 votes were cast for license and 250 against, a majority for the anti-saloon element of 185.

Monday the town took a vote on the question and the "drys" won by the decisive majority of 132.

The maniacturers, merchants and financial institutions in the cities at the way of our state are now tremendously handicapped in competing with those in other states by the provision of our state constitution which the current taxes to be levied on all personal property by cities and towns, for their local purposes, as is levied by them on restate with their boundaries.

This provision does not exist in other states in which the competitors of sur manufacturers, merchants and stancial institutions are located, so that our people in these lines of business are at a great disadvantage in competing with those of other states, and the result is that our satisfies, and the result is that our satisfies, and the result is that our satisfies, and the result is that our satisfies in one provided of the states, and the result is that our satisfies in one provided of the states, and the result is that our satisfies in the satisfies in the result is that our satisfies in the result is the result in the result is that the result is the result in the result is the produce, and then the lead of the result of the result in the result is the result in the satisfies in the result is the result in the result is the result in the satisfies in the result is the result in the result is the result in the satisfies in the result is the result in the re
